MORE INFORMATION

About VAT Forum

VAT Forum gathers, manages and distributes information on indirect taxation from around the world. Expert partners and associates gather the information and then follow up on changes in matters of indirect taxation in their own country and provide VAT Forum with this information for sharing.

Although there is a large amount of information on VAT available world-wide, it is not easily accessible to those wishing to use and consult on it, because it has never been properly organised. VAT Forum manages this information, making it accessible to all who need it.

VAT Forum regularly organises discussion groups and publicizes the outcome of these discussions. The information is distributed to its members by various means as soon as it is available.

VAT and customs legislation is very complex. Some companies are already aware of this, while others are not. VAT Forum provides assistance to those of its members who are not yet familiar with international VAT and customs legislation to help them understand its complexity and to develop certain basic skills.

For those who already have considerable experience with indirect taxation, VAT Forum organises on a regular basis events to perfect their skills.

VAT Forum is also active in the field of research into indirect taxation, because this is necessary to manage large projects. In most cases, research is the basis for further discussion, conferences and lobbying.

National VAT authorities, the European Commission and other international legislative institutions are often not aware that some rules create immense problems, complexities, and inconsistencies for companies.

Therefore, VAT Forum makes proposals to these institutions that simplify these rules, so as to reduce the uncertainty and problems companies are confronted with concerning indirect taxation. Indeed, this may contribute to making some countries, or even Europe as a whole, more investor-friendly.
